HARVEST PROSPECTS.

PROMISE OF AN EXCELLENT YIELD.

Everything Going Well.

Harvest time is drawing near, and notwithstanding the very wet conditions of spring, the magnificent weather experienced through out the summer has brought all forms of vegetation on to such an extent that the cutting of the corn crop will be entirely earlier than in normal years.

It is not only the corn crop that is in a most promising state, but the wheat and barley crops are also in a most promising state.
