DUBLIN HOLD-UP.

£30 IN SILVER TAKEN, £400 IN NOTES OVERLOOKED.

While Thomas Toner, public-house manager, was on his way to the bank, in Dublin to-day, he was held up by two armed men. On refusing to hand his bag over, three shots were fired. One bullet entered Mr. Toner's foot. The men secured £30 in silver from the bag, but missed £400 in notes.

NO REPLY TO POLICE WHISTLE.

FISTICUFFS IN A DERBY STREET.

Giving evidence at Derby today against two men charged with fighting in Queen-street, P.c. Tucker stated that when he intervened and sounded his whistle for assistance no reply was forthcoming. He succeeded in detaining Geo. Powell, labourer, 55, Vyse-street, and his companion, Joseph Edward Hobday, soldier, 26, Vyse-street, called at the police-station to ascertain what Powell was charged with, and was himself arrested.

The Bench considered the prisoners acted in self-defence against another man who attacked them, and declined to convict them for fighting. They, however, fined Powell 10s. for resisting the constable.

WHAT IS PERSONAL LUGGAGE?

THE RAILWAY COMPANY AND THE 'CELLO.

The question of whether a musician in travelling on the railway, is entitled to take his instrument with him as ordinary passenger's luggage, was a matter in the Appeal Court to-day.

The question arose on an appeal brought by the Great Western Railway Company from a decision by the Marylebone County Court judge, who decided that Mr. Warwick Evans, the 'cellist, was entitled to treat his 'cello as personal luggage. Mr. Evans travelled from Malvern, his native town, and from Gloucester to London. His Honour Judge Roberts, in the County Court, said the 'cello was undoubtedly a thing that is not within the limit of the amount which a passenger was entitled to carry without extra charge, and that regarded it as carrying a thing which was such a person in the calling of Mr. Evans would reasonably require for his personal use.

Counsel for the company said the test was this: If the article carried is for the purpose of making one's living, then it is not personal luggage.

Mr. Justice Horridge said he did not say that a 'cello could never be personal luggage, but in this case it was carried for the purpose of a profession, and therefore was not personal luggage. The appeal would be allowed with costs.

Mr. Justice Shearman, also sitting, said he recently decided that a law of theatrical properties carried by an actor on tour was not personal luggage.

Leave to appeal was granted.

RUSSIANS WHO ARE NOT STARVING.

HOW THE LONDON DELEGATION LIVES.

"Give us money to help the little sufferers in the Russian famine zones"—the appeals of the Save the Children Fund continue endlessly, however.

It is instructive, in view of this, to consider the other side of the picture. The trade delegations of the Soviet Government have now established in all the important capitals of Europe, naturally support with enthusiasm the S.O.S. calls on behalf of Russia. The officials of these delegations, however, make no sacrifices themselves. They live in expensive houses or hotels and dine at the best restaurants.

The London delegation is no exception. M. Krassin, the chief, has taken a magnificent residence in Hampstead, and has a Rolls-Royce motor car for his own personal use. This car, by the way, would cost considerably more than £2,000, and one shilling—according to the Save the Children Fund —will feed a starving Russian child for one week.

A fleet of other cars is used for M. Klishko—chief of staff to M. Krassin—and the remaining members of the delegation in England. The latest addition to this motor car fleet are two Vauxhalls. They can be seen any day outside the offices of the delegation in Bond-street and Bolton-street.

All this resembles the conduct of the Bolshevik commissars in Moscow, who grow fat on the food sent from England for the famine victims on the Volga.

POLICEMAN SUSPECTED.

ALLEGED OUTRAGES UPON WOMEN.

The Paris judicial police have arrested Etienne Caratier, police beadle of Champigny-sur-Marne, under extraordinary circumstances. If one-half of the stories told about him are true, he is a strange Don Juan indeed. He has been arrested on a charge of outraging two women, and is also suspected of having murdered two of his supposed victims.

In February, 1919, Madame Filomène Midol was found dead, with wounds on her head. It is assumed that she had been brutally attacked and then murdered. Everything was done to make it appear that she had been knocked down by a motor-car and killed. The assumption made to burn her clothing. A year afterwards Mme. Hanriette Lafontaine was discovered dead in her house. She had been strangled. No one had called upon her, and neither the woman nor her visitor had been seen since. These crimes were never cleared up, and in both cases theft was not the motive.

Caratier is 57 years of age, and has the reputation of being very jovial. He was questioned at length before being sent to the police-station, and declares that he is innocent and the victim of stupid stories circulated by people who are seeking to revenge themselves for the part he took action against them. He was secretary of the sports club at Champigny, and is spoken well of by the members.

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK.

ONE CASE FROM BULWELL AND ONE "FALSE ALARM."

A further case of smallpox was reported in Nottingham to-day. The victim is a girl, aged 12, whose parents live at Bulwell. The patient had not been vaccinated.

Dr. Dreyer also reports a "false alarm" from the Basford district. This case, which was thought at a child, turned out on examination to be merely chicken-pox.

BOTH LEGS OFF.

After an alleged violent attack on his wife at Cardiff to-day, a man was found later on the railway line with both legs cut off.

Both persons are in a serious condition.

REBELS' SUBMISSION.

A British telegram from Durazzo states that Albian bands have accepted the Mirdite pardon without disturbances. Fifteen Mirdite leaders have gone to Serbia, but the remaining chiefs have formally submitted to the Albian Government.

The Jugo-Slavs have been given till the 20th inst. to withdraw from Albania.—Reuter.

HEROISM IN THE PIT.

In recognition of heroism in trying to rescue Arthur Male, a fellow-workman, who had been gassed, James Whitecroft was presented by the Grid Colliery Co. with a gold watch. Whitecroft dragged him 70 or 80 yards before collapsing himself.

George Herbert Clarke, who found the two unconscious men and dragged them to safety, was also given a watch.—Male dead.

NIAGARA 39,000 YEARS OLD.

The age of the Fall of Niagara is estimated at about 39,000 years, by statements was made by Professor W. W. Watts in a lecture at Kensington.

He said the Fall had retreated by seven miles, and layell calculated that it got its way back by a foot a year, and that therefore it was 35,000 years old. The conclusion arrived at from the latest work on the Fall was that its age was about 39,000 years.

AMERICAN VICTIMS OF PARIS THIEVES

Two thefts, of which American women were the victims, have been reported to the Paris police authorities.

In one case Miss Edith Stonburg, daughter of the manager of a large American banking agency, lost a diamond and platinum hair ornament, valued at about £280. The article disappeared while she was dancing at a boulevard cafe.

The other victim is Mrs. Hamilton—née Colket—whose very valuable diamond brooch disappeared while she was inspecting some gowns in a dress-making establishment.

From to-day the price of standard grade straight-run flour is 47s., but flour milled exclusively from English wheat remains unchanged at 43s.

CURRENCIES ADVANCE.

NEW YORK RATE'S SHARP RISE; MARK'S SPURT.

In foreign exchanges all leading currencies have advanced considerably in favour of their respective countries. The outstanding feature is another sharp rise in sterling, the spot cable transfer rate having advanced to 4-10¼, being the highest quotation since 1919.

Another prominent feature is the big spurt in the value of the German mark, which, for the moment, stands at 800 to the pound, or 75 marks less to the pound than Saturday.

MR. BARNES TO RETIRE.

REST NEEDED AFTER STRENUOUS CAREER.

Mr. George Barnes, M.P. for the Gorbals Divisions of Glasgow, announces that he is retiring from politics at the end of the present Parliament.

His action is described as being for purely personal reasons, and that he wanted a rest after a long trade union and political career.

Mr. Barnes is 62 years of age, and has been a labour member of Parliament for 21 years. He was for ten years general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers.

He represented Britain at the Peace Conference, and has also attended the League of Nations and the International Labour Office conferences in the same capacity.

It is just over a year ago since he made on his own responsibility, a dramatic appeal to the Council of the League of Nations to settle, speedily, many into membership. One of his last speeches in the House of Commons was also an eloquent appeal—this time to the Coalition Government—to follow Parliamentary lines in dealing with International Labour conventions regarding maternity and the eight-hour day.

UNIVERSITY DUPED.

AUSTRIAN'S SUCCESSFUL HOAX IN AMERICA.

The duping of a large section of the faculty and the greater part of the undergraduate body of Harvard University, New York, by Dr. Vosberg, of Vienna, a third-year student in the School of Architecture, is the subject of a piquant story in the New York World.

A week ago placards in the town of Ithaca, New York State, announced a lecture on the teachings of Freud by the famous psychoanalyst: "intimate friend and pupil, Dr. Vosberg, of Vienna." Such an intellectual treat was an immense attraction, and there was a full house, a fully prepared man, speaking in broken English, rose to address the assembly in the City Hall, after introduction by a member of the faculty, and was met by a storm of applause.

Such an intellectual treat was an immense attraction, and there was a full house, a fully prepared man, speaking in broken English, rose to address the assembly in the City Hall, after introduction by a member of the faculty, and was met by a storm of applause.

Vosberg, nothing daunted, quickly plunged into a discussion of the interpretation of dreams. "A dreamer does know what he dreams," he remarked confidently. "But does and kind White he knows and therefore believes what he does not know." The erudition displayed by the lecturer in this and other addresses was amazing, apparent, and he was loudly cheered and was congratulated at the end of his discourse by many of the audience. Then came the startling climax: a committee of practical jokers who had arranged the affair became panic-stricken, and dared not reveal the real identity of Doctor.

It was not until picture postcards showing Vosberg with and without his beard and spectacles appeared in a shop in the town that the hoax stood revealed.

TEXTILE DEMONSTRATION.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS AT NOTTM. COLLEGE.

Ample evidence of the great value of the new textile machinery which has been set up at Nottingham University College was given yesterday, when a public demonstration of yarn testing and of the spinning of some of the latest machines installed in the hosiery section was given.

The yarn testing bureau, which is receiving financial support from the hosiery and lace manufactures, has been made completely up to date. Not only will instruction be given to students, but the bureau will be used for testing yarns sent in by manufacturers. The apparatus for testing yarns for counts includes several newer tension frames, a testing machine for ascertaining the yarns sent in by manufacturers. The apparatus for testing yarns for counts includes several newer tension frames, a testing machine for ascertaining the breaking strength tests on the hank or lea, one of the latest type for testing a single thread in regard to strength and elasticity, and yet another for measuring hank lengths.

The most important part of the work will be that of conditioning yarns for sale, and also in other words, finding out the degree of moisture by drying and then weighing the yarn. The most recent kind of conditioning oven has been installed for this purpose.

A feature of the section will be the careful analysis of yarns for quality and material, while reports on defects will be undertaken. The manager is Mr. J. Barr, until recently chief technical expert of the Bradford Technical College, who has had many years' practical experience in issuing official testing certificates to the trade, and whose work in Bradford will therefore continue under the full confidence.

The hosiery plant installed (most of it per manently) includes machinery built by Messrs. George Blackburn and Sons, of Nottingham, Lebocey Frères, of Troyes, Messrs. Stibbe and Co., of Leicester, and the Lamberhurst Machine Co., of Long Row, Mr. William Spiers, of Leicester, and Messrs. Wilcox and Gibbs.

YOUR XMAS TURKEY.

PLENTY OF CHEAP POULTRY FOR LOCAL MARKETS.

Christmas does not seem Christmas without a turkey or a goose, or one of the varieties of feathered fare, which hang up in the shops to tempt the discriminating purchaser. But several years' prices, on account of scarcity of supply and other reasons, have been so prohibitive that only the possessors of the longest purses have been able to indulge in the old English dinner immortalised by Dickens.

This year, fortunately, there is a welcome change, and although few homes are unaffected by the adverse trade conditions, prices will be such as to give most people an opportunity of indulging in the luxury of poultry.

For the first time since the war Austrian and Hungarian poultry is reaching our markets, and the low price, coupled with the fact that there are also big supplies of home, French, Italian, and Irish birds to be obtained, will be found down to "Plenty for all classes," is likely to be the cry, and so far as Nottingham is concerned the public should be able to obtain all the home turkeys they at from 1s. 6d. to 2s. per lb., Irish at anything from 1s. 3d. to 1s. 6d., and Continental birds at even less than that.

Best chickens will range from 1s. 6d. to 2s., ducks 1s. 8d. to 2s., geese 1s. 3d. to 1s. 8d. per lb., pheasants 12s. to 15s. a brace, and hares from 6s. to 8s. each.

SHORT-TIMER'S SUICIDE.

DERBY MAN FOUND HANGING FROM BED-RAIL.

Depressed through shortage of money in consequence of short time being worked at the foundry at which he was employed, Chas. Fly, Price, 46, iron dresser, 98, Wolfa-street, Derby, committed suicide. He was found in his bedroom with a window blind cord round his neck and fastened to a knob on the bedrail.

His wife, who had left him in bed about an hour previously, discovered him seated, as she thought, on the floor. He made no response when she shook him and called him by name. A neighbour, Wm. Fred Wozencroft, whom she summoned, on attempting to lift him by the shoulders found that he was hanging. He cut the cord and tried to restore respiration, without result.

At the inquest to-day, when a verdict of "Suicide during temporary insanity" was returned, the widow stated that deceased had been so worried that he could neither sleep nor eat.

DERBY LADY'S DEATH.

The death was announced at Derby to-day of Miss Emily Elizabeth Newton, a member of an old local family, and the last survivor of the children of Wm. Newton, of Derby.

Deceased, who was in her 89th year, was for nearly 45 years superintendent of St. Alkmund's Sunday School, and in 34 years she was absent from her post on one occasion only, illness then being the cause. She was one of the founders of the Women's Hospital.

Cardiff's rates this year are 17s. 8d., compared with 7s. 10d. in 1913-14. In Merthyr the increase is 10s. 4½d. to 30s. 5½d., and in Aberdare 11s. 2d. to 37s. 3d.

BATTLE OF THE BLUES.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE AT STAMFORD BRIDGE.

THE VARSITY SOCCER MATCH.

Stamford Bridge, the home of the Chelsea Football Club, was this afternoon the scene for the first time of the Inter-Varsity Association match. Ever since the season of 1897-98 the game had been played at Queen's Club, but following the example of their Rugby colleagues, the Universities decided to make a change this year. Neither side having been able to play the same eleven as against four weeks ago, and one substitute at all Oxford had accomplished the best performance since beating a strong F.A. eleven by 7—3. Cambridge have only managed to do a single win—5—3. Of the previous 43 games Cambridge had won 25, Oxford 16 with four drawn.

Oxford: Goalkeeper, A. Hamilton; backs, Greaves and Orrin; halves, Birch, Lonsdale and Queen; forwards, Chamberlain, Wilson, Wright, Fry, Hayward, Hon. A. Exeter), "A. H. G. Butcher (capt.) (Charterhouse and Sandhurst), B. Bell (Rugby and Oriel), M. Lindsay (St. Olave's and Worcester), "A. H. Phillips (Oxford Pilgrims and Hertford), "A. Wilson (Winchester and Magdalen), P. H. Thorne (Charterhouse and Trinity), "F. N. S. Curtis (Clifton and Trinity), and "Hon. T. Pakenham (Eton and Oriel).

Cambridge—"A. H. Wilkin (Lancing and Clare), D. C. Dewhurst (Charterhouse and Clare), W. Wright (Repton and Middlesbrough), Rich. Shaw and Clarke, J. R. B. Moody (Radley and Trinity), "C. T. Ashton (Winchester and Magdalene), "A. Brewis (Repton and Clare), "A. Trevor-Jones (Charterhouse and Trinity), "F. N. S. Curtis (Clifton and Trinity), and "Hon. T. Pakenham (Eton and Oriel).

The game was a fast one, Oxford had the better of the opening stages, Lindsay however, centred badly. Woodbridge was then dangerous once, and Wilkin handled twice. It was a wonderfully fast game, but the teams were very excited, good passes going astray. Chamberlain and Bernard had delivered the best shot up to this point, just grazing the far post. Cambridge got busy and twice were almost through. A great run by Wilkin ended in a fine effort by Creek forced a fruitless corner. Lindsay got in same clever centre but this was charged down.

ARSENAL v. BOLTON WANDERERS.

At Highbury, before 8,000 people, in gloomy weather. Arsenal played R. Boreham, the amateur international and ex-Notts. forward, who knows what he knows and therefore believes what he does not know." The erudition displayed by the lecturer in this and other addresses was amazing, apparent, and he was loudly cheered and was congratulated at the end of his discourse by many of the audience. DIED IN CHURCH ON HIS BIRTHDAY.

Major-General H. R. Elliott, formerly of the Madras Infantry, died in church at St. Mary's Church, Cheltenham, at the close of the General Confession at yesterday morning's service, on his 65th birthday.

Edward Stradling, 15, of Kingston, who makes a hobby of collecting bicycle lamps—he had five on his bicycle—was placed on probation at Kingston, for stealing two additional lamps.

The wages of agricultural labourers in Derbyshire have been fixed in the joint negotiations at 40s. an hour, with 1s. an hour for Sunday work. The questions of overtime and rates for youths are to be settled by mutual agreement.

A BRACE OF OBJECTIONS.

INCIDENTS AT COLWICK PARK RACES.

THE SUCCESS OF RED MICHAEL.

The weather for the opening afternoon of the Nottingham December meeting was fine, but at the same time very cold. The course was in capital order and the attendance was good.

A THIRD SUCCESSIVE WIN.

Scrabo, at Birmingham on Saturday, succeeded for Stalbridge, Pride of Minister, and King's Favourite, and in view of the fact that all were in opposition again in the Castle Chase it was not surprising that Scrabo started an even money chance. He won in a canter from Pride of Minister and Stalbridge. Bright Blue fell half-way.

DORNOCH RECOVERS FROM LOSSES.

Dornoch on some of his running was well treated and in the Trent Handicap he was backed from 7 to 4 to 5 to 2 and finished a fine second to Red Michael, the favourite, and Raiyan became third. Interrogation fell at the second hurdle, and Coming King at the next.

A STIFFISH JUMP.

Torpedowake is an unlucky horse for Miss G. Tredwell, as on each of his last two outings he finished second, and singularly in the Stapleford Handicap this was again the position, finding his conqueror in Auchincrese, which similarly had at late found one too good for him. The favourite, Wavecham, never appeared to have a fighting chance.

SURVIVED AN OBJECTION.

Oliviero was ridden to victory by Bennett at Leicester by Lord Ednam and Brankstown, and in the Bentinck Hurdle was looked upon as practically a winner without a race. Only Mr. Fletcher was on him, but in a close finish Red Michael beat him; and the winner also survived an objection for running from the last hurdle to the enclosure, after refusing, completed the course.

The objection to Red Michael was over-ruled, but the deposit money was not returned.

RUN IN A BAD LIGHT.

The light became worse while the Clifton Hurdle was being run, and the wagering on the event was not very brisk. Willing, the favourite and his jockey, who has been riding well in Ireland, had the mount on Sillery, which was equal favourite with Allright Flight at 5 to 1. Sillery led Allright Flight at the last hurdle, and Allright Flight fell. Sillery then had a clear run home and won by two lengths; three-parts of a length between the second and third. Mariner was fourth, Scrabo fifth, Bright Blue sixth, Ragicles seventh, Northcourt eighth, and Lady Ann last. Subsequently an objection was lodged against Raiyan, which disabled second for crossing, and Raiyan was placed third. Winner trained by Peyton.

10 to 1 Against Allright Flight, 5 to 1 Sillery, 7 to 1 Girvan, 10 to 1 Moonbeam, 100 to 7 Jacquelina.

The running was made by Sillery and Jacquelina and Oliviero, with Red Michael last for six furlongs, when Jacquelina ran out. Oliviero was always dangerous, and was joined two furlongs from home by Red Michael which had a clear finish was by three lengths; three-parts of a length. Moonbeam fourth. An objection to the winner on the ground of boring was disallowed.
