Vol. 69. No 3513. THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1799. (Price SIX-PENCE.)

Friday's Mail.

LONDON, (Thurtday,) Auguft 15.

YESTERDAY arrived the Mail from Hamburgh, which became due on Sunday. It brings not the leaft intelligence of importance. No variation has taken place in the poſitions of the reſpective armies, and the capitulation offered by the French in the Citadel of Aleſſandria had been rejected by Field-Marſhal Suwarrow.

The articles of information from the Hague, Amſterdam, and Rotterdam, are ſo far intereſting as they expreſs the trepidation of the French, who have demanded and obtained for their own General the Command in Chief of the Dutch forces. This regulation is followed by a ſingular Proclamation of the new Commander. In the mean time the greateſt part of the country ſeems ready to declare for the Stadtholder, and invokes the arrival of the Britiſh Armament.

HAGUE, July 30.—Gen Brune has officially notified his appointment as Commander in Chief over all the troops in our Republic.

July 30.—Our Directory has propoſed in a letter to the Legiſlative Aſſemblies, that the French Gen. Brune ſhould be entruſted, proviſionally, with the chief command of the Batavian army. This being confirmed, the Directory actually conferred on him he chief command, for the reaſons, that as the Britiſh Government, in ſeveral parts of the Channel, are preparing a ſecret expedition, it was requiſite inſtantly to eſtabliſh a perfect union of defence, which ſalutary meaſure ought not to be delayed until the negociations of the two governments ſhould be decided on this point; that the French and Batavian diviſions ſhould not be confounded, and that the General ſhould reſpect the requiſition of all the conſtituted authorities, &c. On this occaſion the French General iſſued the following proclamation to both armies:

"COMRADES,

"Jealous of its liberty and independence, the Batavian Republic now aſſumes an attitude to deſpiſe menaces, and to repel aggreſſions. It has called on all its citizens for the defence of their home; their eagerneſs and ardour proclaim the ſame people, whoſe courage, pride, and perſeverance aſtoniſhed the world two centuries paſt.

"By an acknowledgment of eſteem, proceeding from the alliance of two nations, this Republic has conferred on me the chief command of its army. Thus, ſtill more cloſely united, the Batavians and French will puſh forth their tried weapons, to form an inſurmountable barrier againſt the hordes hired by a monopolizing Government, who drag in their ſuite chains, confiſcations, pillage, and ruin. No! never ſhall barbarians ravage illuſtrous Batavia, one of the moſt marvellous creations of liberty. Its frontiers are ſacred barriers, before which death only can be found.

"Long live the Republics of France and Batavia! The union of a free people is the pledge of triumphs."

AMSTERDAM, July 25. The Executive Directory has iſſued an order relative to the diſobedience of the citizens to the law of the armament. Thoſe who ſhall refuſe to conform to this law are to be proceeded againſt with the moſt ſeverity. The practices of the internal enemies of the Republic are to be watched with redoubled vigilance, eſpecially now that we are threatened with a foreign invaſion.

The following is an extract of a letter from Groningueu, dated the 17th inſtant.

"Yeſterday evening a veſſel arrived at this port, which relates that it was by a kind of miracle that he eſcaped the Engliſh, who daily come and cut out the veſſels at anchor along the coaſt. They even had the audacity to land 70 men behind Uyueſt; but on the approach of an armed force, they retired again to their ſhips."

ROTTERDAM, July 19.—The ſecret, and even public meetings of the partizans of the Houſe of Orange, cauſe here the greateſt diſquietude. It is eſtimated that three-fourths of the inhabitants are decidedly in favour of the Stadtholder, and they are therefore not afraid publicly to make known their ſentiments, and even to declare that they will never take up arms but in defence of the Stadtholder and his allies.

The Combined Fleets, which were reported on Tueſday to have been ſeen off Ireland, prove to be a Swediſh Convoy of Merchant Ships.

Six women per company only have been allowed to embark with the firſt expedition.

The State Priſoners at Fort George, ſay the Edinburgh Paper, appears all to be refigned to their fate except Arthur O'Conner, whoſe ſulkineſs ſtill continues—his brother Roger has been in bad health. They are all allowed by Government as much meat and malt-liquor as they can take, and a pint of wine each day; but no ſpirits.

The Friendſhip, Botany Bay ſhip, which left Waterford on the 13th ult. encountered a dreadful gale of wind off Dungarvon, where ſhe parted with the convoy, the Rutland cutter. What rendered her ſituation more critical, a plot to take the ſhip from the Commander, and to put him with all the other officers to death was diſcovered on the paſſage by two of the convicts, a ſhort time before its perpetration. She fortunately arrived there on the 29th ult. and will ſail, we underſtand, with the firſt convoy. She has 200 perſons of every deſcription on board.

Yeſterday, after the Levee a Chapter of the Order of the Garter was held, to inveſt Earl Camden with the Blue Ribbon worn by the late Duke of Dorſet. His Lordſhip was introduced between the Dukes of York and Glouceſter, the Knights Companions being preſent. The Prince of Wales aſſiſted, being the next Senior Knight to the Sovereign, in buckling the Garter round his Lordſhip's knee. The Biſhops of Saliſbury and Winchester, and Sir Iſaac Heard, attended the Chapter.

Character of Earl Howe.—The following character of Lord Howe, drawn by the preſent Biſhop of Meath, in his ſermon before the two Houſes of Parliament in Ireland, on the thankſgiving for our naval victories, is ſtrongly and accurately marked, and will be acceptable to many of our readers:—"For our reſources againſt ſuch a criſis, God was pleaſed previouſly to raiſe up for us one of thoſe men, who has brought us back to the days of old Britiſh heroiſm, when the ſoldier and the Chriſtian ſo often formed but one character; then the moſt aſſured defenders of their country exhibited the moſt perfect models of unaffected religion and blameleſs morals, and while they feared their God, ſhewed that they knew no other fear. A man, who at a time of life when others think only of repoſing themſelves in quiet and eaſe, amidſt the laurels they may have gained, returned to their quarter-deck at the command of his Sovereign, and exceeded all that he had himſelf before atchieved:—A man, whoſe mind requires arduous, and deſperate occaſions to call out its full powers.—Cautious, circumſpect, deliberative in planning; bold, rapid, and what, without ſuch preparations, might be called raſh, in executing; always going to his point, unaffected by profeſſional miſrepreſentation, or popular impatience; ever conſident of himſelf, and his own reſources, although without aſſumption or diſplay; and never more clear, diſtinct, or aſſured in his deſigns, than when, by ſuperficial obſervers or jealous rivals, he has been reprehended as confuſed and embarraſſed. Such was the conqueror of the 1ſt of June!"

ASHBY-DE-LA-ZOUCH CANAL.

THE Proprietors of this Navigation are directed and required to pay a further Call of 5l. per cent. on or before the 31ſt inſtant, (making in the whole with the former Calls 50l. per cent. on their ſeveral Shares,) to Meſſ. WILKES and PYCROFT, the Treaſurers at Burton-upon-Trent, or at their account to Meſſrs. WILKES, DICKENSON, GOODALL, and FISHER, Bankers, in the Poultry, London.

J. PRIOR, Chairman.

Cheſterfield, 14th Auguſt, 1799.

Rochdale, April 8th, 1799.

DEAR SIR,

HAVING been informed by ſeveral perſons of character of the great benefit they have received from your ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS, particularly one Alexander Milne, of Heywood, in the parith of Bury, Lancaſhire, who deſires his caſe may be made known to the public, has induced me to ſend his teſtimony to you for inſertion in the public papers if agreeable, as delivered to me by himſelf within theſe few days.

His complaint was a dry ſcurvy or leproſy, with which he had been ſeverely afflicted for ſome years, but more particularly the laſt twelve months. At a great expence he had applied to ſeveral gentlemen of the faculty, but received no benefit; on the contrary, his complaint daily increaſed, which brought him ſo low by ſickneſs, attended with excruciating pain in his head, that he had given up all hopes of recovery. A few weeks ago he applied to me for a bottle of your Antiſcorbutic Drops, from which he found himſelf inexpreſſibly better; he then had a ſecond bottle, after that a third; but obſerved that he did not think he had occaſion for the latter; but as they had made ſuch a wonderful change in his frame for the better, he thought prudent to take a third bottle. Any perſon wiſhing to call upon me for further information, may be fully ſatisfied with the greateſt pleaſure.

I remain, Sir,
your very humble ſervant,
THOS. GREENLEES,
Bookſeller, Rochdale.

To Mr Lignum, Surgeon, No. 57. Bridge-ſtreet, Manchester.

☞ Theſe drops are ſold in moulded ſquare bottles, at 12s. and 4s. 6d. One 12s. bottle is equal in quantity to three 4s. 6d. ones. They may be had wholeſale and retail, at Mr. Lignum's Diſpenſary in Manchester; and by appointment, of J. Drewry, Derby; Mrs. Walker, Aſhborne; Mr. Smith, Leek; Mr. Coates, Burton-upon-Trent; Mr. Morgan, Lichfield; Mr. Swinney and Mr. Piercy, Birmingham; Meſſrs. Burbage and Co. Nottingham; Mr. Sheppard, Mansfield; Mr. Calow, Cheſterfield; Mr. Pierſon, Sheffield; Miſs Wilſon, Rotheram; Mr. Boys and Mr. Sheardown, Doncaſter; Mr. Smith, Newcaſtle; &c. &c.

STRAYED,

DR BATEMAN'S PECTORAL DROPS.

To Meſſ. DICEY & Co, No. 10, Bow Church-Yard, London.

NICHOLAS JOHNSON of Seaton, in the County of Durham, have for upwards of twelve Months labourer under a violent Rheumatic Compliant, ſo that I was not able to walk or ſtand Upright. After applying to ſeveral Gentlemen of the Faculty, without receiving any Benefit, I was adviſed to try a Bottle of Dr. Bateman's Pectoral Drops, prepared by Meſſ. Dicey and Co. of London, which was bought of Mr. R. Chriſtopher, Printer and Bookſeller, in Stockton; and before I had finiſhed taking one Bottle, I was much relieved; and by taking two Bottles more, I am now reſtored to perfect Health, and able to walk as well as ever I could in my Life.

I wiſh to make this Public for the Benefit of others afflicted with the ſame cruel Diſorder. As Witneſs my Hand, this ſeventh Day of September, 1798.

NICHOLAS JOHNSON.

Witneſs, THOMAS DAVISON,
CHRISTOPHER HELTUS.

The high Reputation in which the above Medicine has been held for more than Seventy Years paſt, induces many People to counterfeit it. Informed, that there is ſcarce a Town where a ſpurious Sort of Bateman's Drops are not expoſed to Sale, the Public will pleaſe to obſerve, that none are truly genuine but ſuch as have the Names of Dicey and Co. No. 10, Bow Church-yard, printed (by Favour of the Commiſſioners of the Stamp Office) on the Label which is paſted on each Phial, and Imitation of which is a Capital Offence. And as our Bottles and Directions have lately been cloſely imitated, it is neceſſary further to caution the Public, to examine particularly whether the Name of Thos Dicey and Co. No. 10, Bow Church-yard is ſigned at the Top of each Bottle Directions, without which they will be certainly impoſed upon.
