

ISLES OF SCILLY: WEDNESDAY 8TH – WEDNESDAY 15TH MAY 2019

The Isles of Scilly have been designated an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) since 1975. They offer a wealth of different landscapes, from clear seas and coastal heathland to woodland, farmland and archaeological sites. Within them all flourishes an array of plants, animals, birds and marine life, including some very rare species that are found nowhere else in the world.

There are five inhabited islands - St. Mary's, Tresco, St. Martin's, Bryher and St. Agnes – and many uninhabited islands to explore.

This trip will provide plenty of flexibility, with opportunities for individuals and groups to decide what they wish to do each day.

Will Wagstaff is the resident ornithologist and naturalist and guided trips/walks/boat trips can be booked with him on a daily basis.

Transport between Malvern and Land's End will be by coach. We shall fly to the Isles of Scilly from Land's End airport and return by sea (or return by air if you wish). The timings are more convenient if we return by sea, it provides another mode of travel, is cheaper than travelling by air and the coach will pick us up at the port in Penzance. Travelling by air will mean a bus ride from Land's End airport to Penzance – not a problem.

Accommodation on St Mary's can be B&B or self catering and we can be flexible where evening meals are concerned, meeting up with other members of the group as and when wished. There are plenty of places to eat on St Mary's.

Transport and accommodation costs are not yet known for 2019, but as a guide, a similar holiday in 2014 was £515 (sharing) for B&B.

Accommodation needs to be booked far in advance, so if you wish to join the trip, please book as soon as possible, but no later than the end of March 2018, indicating your choice of B&B or self catering and whether you wish to return to the mainland by sea or by air.

If you have any queries, then please contact Margaret by phone (01684 565079) or email (m.vernon613@btinternet.com).
