

Friends of Jubilee Country Park

Newsletter Autumn 2018

Welcome to our autumn update

by John Bruce

Last year, Sue Folkes announced her intention of stepping down as chairman of the Friends of Jubilee Country Park and true to her word, she did so at our AGM in March. Sue had served as chairman for the last four years, but her contribution extended far beyond that role and our immense thanks go to her for all the work she has done. She has designed and set up our website, established databases and electronic filing systems and managed our membership records. Sue has represented us at Bromley Friends Forum, dealt with Bromley Council, and liaised with idverde and many outside bodies. If that weren't enough, she has also helped to raise considerable funds by growing and selling plants and by making her delicious jams and marmalade.

Sue has nurtured and developed a number of important projects including the Woodland Trail and the Digital Nature Trail and you can read all about them in the following articles.

The Woodland Trail, which is just being finalised and is largely wheelchair friendly, will be a marked path through Thorne Wood, starting at the car park. This trail joins our Nature Trail, Orienteering Course and a section of The London Loop and is a welcome addition to the signed walks in our park.

Following a successful recruitment drive after our open meeting in December, we have expanded the committee to its full complement of roles and the following members were duly elected: Zara Jolly (Secretary), Peter Runacres (Treasurer), Ros Martin (Events), Sylvia Chubbs (Membership), Jennie Randall (Projects Director), Sarah Coulbert (Social Media), Penny Russell (Events) and John Bruce (Chair). Subsequently, Tony Ruffle and Sue Folkes were co-opted for particular roles; Tony, for the monthly emailing of events and Sue, for her expertise and her invaluable computer skills (she doesn't get away that easily!).

We have had another busy and successful year of activity, but one area we really want to address is how we build awareness of our fabulous park and consequently increase the membership of The Friends. Our Magnificent Meadows Day was one such event, when we welcomed many new visitors to the park, and we are also keen to continue building links with our neighbouring schools. John Bruce has been leading informative, guided walks to groups of pupils, teachers and parents from our local schools. St James' Junior School is already an enthusiastic participant, but we need to do more and your help is needed. Would your child's school or your local community group be interested in taking part? If so, please contact us to find out more.

The Digital Nature Trail is an exciting, joint project with Bromley High Junior School, which brings modern technology up close to nature, with a seasonal audio-visual guide to the park and the species you can find in it. You can read all about it in Sue's article which follows.

We know that a lot of local people still haven't discovered the delights of the park, and many of those who do enjoy using the park haven't yet joined up, so please spread the word and invite your friends, neighbours and colleagues to join and support us in our work to conserve the park for everyone to enjoy for generations to come. Also, if you have any suggestions for events, or contacts who would be willing speakers, or if you can lend a hand in any way, please contact any member of the committee.

Finally, thanks to all our members for your continued enthusiasm and support for the work of the Friends, and a warm welcome to our new members. As autumn fast approaches, we will soon be sending out membership renewals, so please make sure you renew your subscription in good time for next year. It is still only £5 per household to ensure that you are kept up to date with all our news and a varied programme of walks, talks and events is promised for next year-full details are at the back of this newsletter. Why not do it right now and please remember to let us know if you're moving house.

The importance of our wildflower meadows

by Ros Martin

Bird's foot trefoil

As well as being a quintessential sight of summer, the value of meadows to our wildlife cannot be overstated- a single, healthy meadow can be home to over 80 species of wild flowers, compared to most modern agricultural pasture which generally has fewer than a dozen species. However, meadows are much more than just pretty flowers; they are unrivalled havens for wildlife. Over 1370 species of insects eat meadow plants, they are home to pollinating butterflies, bees and hover-flies and the soil is full of ants, fungi, worms and beetles.

Jubilee Country Park has several wildflower meadows with flowers including cory-fruited water dropwort, clover, knapweed, lucerne, chicory (our emblem flower) and bird's foot trefoil, a plant which can support over 160 species of insect. We also have butterflies including the meadow brown, gatekeeper, large and small white and the common blue, as well as a variety of bees including the white-tailed bumblebee. The red-tailed bumblebee and honey bees have also been found in the meadows this summer.

The British conservation charity, Plantlife, is working both nationally and internationally to save threatened wild flowers, plants and fungi. They are at the forefront of saving, restoring and creating meadows and spearheaded the Save our Magnificent Meadows project to halt the steady decline of flower rich meadows in the UK. Over 97% of the meadows that existed in the 1930s have been eradicated – a loss of 7.5 million acres of wild flower grassland.

As part of Plantlife's bid to make people more aware of the importance and benefits of our wild flower meadows, they launched National Meadows Day four years ago and this annual event is celebrated on the first Saturday of July. To do our part and mark the occasion, The Friends of Jubilee Country Park held a family day near the picnic site in the park this year. We were joined by the Bromley branch of RSPB, Friends of the Earth and Emma Pooley from London Wildlife Trust, who shared some fascinating information about the Urban Urchin programme which is monitoring hedgehogs in the London area.

Despite the unprecedented heat and the quarter finals of the World Cup, many families came along and learnt about the wildlife and the plants of the meadows and enjoyed a guided walk led by John Bruce. There was also a variety of arts and crafts activities for children and a wonderful face painter who transformed faces into bees, butterflies and dragonflies.

We would like to thank everyone who came along and our friends from RSPB, Friends of the Earth and Emma Pooley, as well as the many volunteers from The Friends of Jubilee Country Park who braved the heat to help celebrate our wonderful wild flower meadows.

Jubilee Country Park leapfrogs into the Digital Age

by Sue Folkes

If you're keen to get your children outdoors and having fun while learning, but find that they are glued to their screens, then this could be the perfect answer; a digital nature trail.

Jubilee Country Park's nature trail features 16 observation points, each with an individual QR (Quick Response) code. By using a smart phone to scan the code and with a click or two, you will be taken to a unique audiovisual presentation detailing the wildlife specific to that observation point.

The child-friendly information includes new, seasonally oriented information which complements the original trail. The QR trail has been created by the Friends of Jubilee

Park, led by Sue Folkes working with pupils from Bromley High Junior School guided by Sheetal

Kowalczyk, their science teacher, and Dr Judy John of Bromley Biodiversity Partnership, who provided knowledge and expertise for the content. Phase 1, Autumn, is now available, while work is progressing on a summer trail for next year and plans are in place to create a spring version for 2020.

You can test your reader on the QR post shown above

generation in looking after our environment. The project has involved our ten-year old pupils visiting the nature reserve with the Friends, taking photographs for the trail and learning about the variety and interdependence of nature."

Sue Folkes says: "So far, more than 80 children, teachers, parents and Friends have participated in the exercise. We hope the trail will be used by everyone to help educate our young people in the importance of conserving the richness of our local nature reserve."

To access the Digital Nature Trail

The trail follows the existing nature trail route, starting in Tent Peg Lane car park. Each presentation is accessed using a QR reader on your smartphone. This can be downloaded free from your usual App store. I have tried several readers and am currently using "QR code reader – No Ads" from Sustainable App Developer. You will need access to the internet and preferably, sound too. If you don't have a QR reader, the URL is also printed on the plaque. You will be able to choose a presentation to suit the season, currently autumn is available. The presentation is designed for a normal smartphone and can be enlarged to fit your screen.

The Jubilee Country Park Conservation Work Group by Ros Martin and Jennie Randall

If you want to get out in the fresh air, get fitter, learn new skills (or utilise existing ones) and above all, have fun, why not join the Friends of Jubilee Country Park's Monday morning conservation group? You don't have to have had any previous experience and full guidance and training is provided, with everyone working at their own pace.

We get involved in a wide variety of differing tasks throughout the year: scrub clearance, hedge laying, monitoring flora and fauna, fence repairing, removing saplings and brambles from the meadows, cutting back overhanging vegetation and litter picking to name a few!

Seeing what you can achieve as part of a team is immensely rewarding and it also gives a great sense of community spirit. The appreciative comments which we frequently get from park users concerning our work are a great encouragement. We also discover much, through practical work, about how we can improve the environment for both wildlife and people. It's not all work either, we stop for a cuppa, biscuits and a chat half way through the morning and often have lunch together when our task is completed.

*The conservation team stop for a well-deserved cuppa.
New members are very welcome so please get in touch and join us*

It really is a very enjoyable and rewarding way to start the week, so if you're interested in joining us or would like to find out more, please call Jennie Randall on 07840 542261, or Andrew Harby, our Community Manager from idverde for Bromley Council on 07464 989094 or email us at jubileecountrypark@yahoo.co.uk.

You can also follow us on Facebook at facebook.com/jubileecountrypark. The schedule of work and meeting places can be found on noticeboards in the park, on our website www.jubileecountrypark.btck.co.uk or, if you're not online, call Jennie and one can be posted out to you. It would be great if you could join us!

Calling all green-fingered members! Please can you help with our fundraising?

One of the mainstays of our fundraising has been the sale of plants at the Petts Wood and Keston Spring Fairs. We need gardeners to help maintain stocks (and other perennials and annuals). If you can help by growing on seeds, plugs or cuttings please contact Sue Folkes or any committee member.

A sad goodbye to Angela Ruffle, one of our original members

It is with great sadness that we share the news of the recent, unexpected death of Angela Ruffle. Angela, along with husband Tony, was a founding member of the Friends of Jubilee Country Park, an enthusiastic supporter and a regular member of the butterfly transect team. She will be greatly missed and we send our sincere condolences to Tony and the family.

Fond memories of Katherine Collins, one of our oldest friends

by Jennie Randall

Age is no barrier to joining a Friends work group and Katherine Collins was a wonderful example of this. Katherine joined our Monday work group when she was a mere 85 years old. She got involved with great enthusiasm, and swiftly became a much-loved member of the team. Lopping and litter-picking were her two specialities, both of which she undertook with gusto. In addition, she had a great love of nature and was fascinated by the flora and fauna of Jubilee Country Park. Everyone who knew her would agree that one word summed up Katherine's personality, and that word is delightful. She was a true lady, always sweet-natured and smiling, and an absolutely unique character.

As time went by, Katherine's family felt she should rein in her activities. With considerable reluctance, Katherine decided that she could no longer attend the work party. She gave us a very kind donation and left, or so we thought! We were all very sad to say goodbye to her and missed her cheery presence. However, three weeks later Katherine turned up on a Monday morning, dressed for work. "I was having so much fun with the Friends, I decided to come back," she explained. Katherine stayed with us for another couple of years until ill-health resulted in her moving to a local care home. She still joined us occasionally over several years, on the annual Wheelchair Walk and at talks and social events. When this became impossible, I continued to visit her at Queen Elizabeth House. She often reflected on the happy times she'd spent with the Friends, which clearly meant a great deal to her. Katherine was a dear and good friend, who will be missed very much.
