Venue: Rayleigh Library
Open: Mon-Sat 9am-5pm

8 Cherry Sandover Photographer
There is something appealing about the sofa that is no longer the absolute centre of the living space. Conjuring up memories of lives lived, of January sales on the TV, soap opera dramas and sit com families, the sofa out on the pavement has long lost its identity. Sometimes well used, broken and oozing; at others, almost as pristine as an advert for buy now, pay later.
Venue: Amos Estate Agents
Open: Mon-Fri 9am-6pm, Sun 9am-5pm

9 Alison Millin Calligraphy
Having admired the art of 'beautiful writing' for most of my life, I began to study in earnest several years ago and am thoroughly enjoying the journey. A Mancunian by birth, I moved to Essex in 1992 and now consider it to be home, physically and spiritually.
Venue: Rayleigh Baptist Church
Open: Mon-Fri 9am-3pm

10 Steve Lodge Space Artist
Born with a love of science fiction, I started painting the cosmos while studying science at university. Now I fuse astronomical concepts with a diverse range of media from pin hole photography to sculpture

Venue: A R Adams
Open: Window Display 24/7

12 Deanne Lord Visual Artist
My paintings use dreamlike imagery combined with simplified landscapes. I enjoy creating scenes that use mixed media and sgraffito techniques in order to give the paintings depth. After completing my Fine Art degree from the University of Wales in Cardiff in 1997, I have worked part time as a practising artist.
Venue: Lovely Home Interiors and Gifts
Open: Mon-Sat 9am-5:30pm

13 Debbie McIntee Visual Artist
What my art offers is space, breathing room for the spirit. It's a reflection of my soul that appears in my work. Created from the heart my art brings a visualisation of those who I believe are always with us and a sense of positivity. I hope you feel that somehow.
