The files are stored in the presbytery office and are available to view and, in some cases, to borrow by those interested. I am always interested in acquiring any other parish documents or bulletins that you may wish to share from days gone by. My email address is: mbryan@dsl.pipex.com

From The Archives

You may have heard of the Dutch Saint, St Willibrord; but do you know the connection this saint has with our parish and school here at St Francis? As our school begins a new academic year I thought it appropriate this month to go back in the archives 78 years to September 1939; Britain had declared war on Germany and the country was in crisis. Plans were being hastily made to evacuate children from our large cities to the safer environment of the countryside. The teachers and parents of St Willibrord's Catholic School in Clayton, East Manchester, were particularly concerned as their school was sited near to the AVRO airplane factory where the components for the Lancaster Bomber were being manufactured. Arrangements were made, therefore, for thirty-seven pupils from St Willibrord's to be evacuated to Goosnargh and for them to attend St Francis' School. They were taught by the teachers of The Hill and accommodated by local families. Some of our parishioners may remember these events and may even have been a member of a family who gave them shelter. St Willibrord's is still a thriving catholic school and rumour has it that the Parish Priest of St Willibrord's is prepared to speak at great length about their patron Saint!

Details of the school can be found at www.st-willibrords.manchester.sch.uk
