

Severe Hearing Loss

The Child or Young Person (CYP) cannot access any sounds of speech without hearing aids or cochlear implants (CI)

Implications for learning

The CYP may:

- be vulnerable to underachieving
- need support to access the curriculum
- find listening in a busy environment very challenging
- miss or mishear instructions
- miss out on incidental learning- which is important for language development
- have a limited vocabulary
- have a speech and language delay
- have difficulty concentrating and become tired quickly
- find social interactions challenging eg breaktimes

Ways to help

- CYP should sit at the front and to the side of the classroom with a clear view of the board and the teacher's face. CYP should sit next to a good role model
- Keep background noise to a minimum. Close doors and windows and switch off unnecessary equipment
- Speak clearly, naturally, at a normal pace facing the CYP. Ensure your face is not in shadow
- Do not move around the room when speaking
- Get the CYP's attention before speaking
- Repeat questions and contributions of other pupils to ensure they have been heard clearly
- Use careful questioning to ensure the CYP's understanding
- Rephrase rather than repeat statements if they are misunderstood
- CYP may need pre and post teaching of new/key vocabulary and concepts
- Reinforce new/key vocabulary visually e.g. writing on the board, use pictures and artefacts
- Provide opportunities to work outside the classroom for group work
- Ensure the CYP is using their hearing aids/CI/radio aids consistently and effectively
- Always use subtitles on videos (check they are accurate first). Ensure that discussion does not take place with the lights off
