22nd Sunday of the Year

2nd September 2018

You must do what the Word tells you.

After several weeks of reading St John's Gospel, we return once more to hearing St Mark. The focus this week is on the Law, and the tensions that can exist between the Commandments of God as fulfilled in Jesus and human traditions.

Of course, in the first place the Law was a gift from God to help us show wisdom and understanding, leading to our own happiness (First Reading).

The Psalm describes the person who will live in the presence of God. As God's children we must accept and submit to his word, not just in what we say, but also in what we do (Second Reading).

However, if the Law becomes a God in itself and leads the follower to be obsessed with its human interpretations, then the focus is no longer on the Lord at the centre of our life, and a change of heart is needed (Gospel).

This week, then, we might want to pray particularly for a greater balance in our lives between the Lord and his Word and a legalistic approach to life and its human institutions.

It is a charity that affects most of us one way or another. Thank you.

SVP Awareness Month: We are currently praying for our brothers and sisters in Kerala, desperately in need of refuge and support following the recent flooding of their communities in southern India. The SVP in England and Wales is channelling donations directly to local volunteers on the ground, so that they can get funds and materials to those people who have been injured or displaced by the floods. Our volunteers are also liaising with parishes to provide emergency shelter for people who have been displaced.

St Mary Magdalen and St Teresa SVP will have a special collection on weekend 8th /9th September 2018 to support Kerala.

St O please note change in Mass times for Monday + Tuesday

Prayer for Back to School

As the children leave for school, I pray they might open their hearts and minds to their teachers and their text books and see learning not as a chore but as an unending adventure.

Keep them from distractions and help them to focus their attention on what is truly important. Help them to see homework as a necessary exercise of the mind and not as a nightmare deadline.

May they discover in school the special talents and skills they have to spur them on into a future of wise possibilities. Help them to grow in knowledge that is tempered by wisdom and humility.

May they not be afraid to ask questions or to honour the great mysteries of life.

May they find friends who are loyal and cherish them. And may they always be kind to all their classmates in a spirit of love and respect especially from those who are very different from them.

Send your Spirit to watch over them with peace and protection that they might nourish and nurture the best that is in them.

May they use this time in school to prepare for the future when they will take our place in the circle of time and make their special contributions to the repair and replenishment of the world. So be it .
