Calendars out now

The calendars proved so popular last year, that Jo and Pete Scott-Smith have produced another for 2018, this time with photos of the area over the last hundred years. Only £5.99.

Late night shopping and book signing!

Friday 15th December, 5pm to 8.30pm

The shop is staying open late and customers will be welcomed with a glass of mulled wine (or mulled apple juice) and a mince pie whilst they enjoy browsing our Christmas range.

Michael Lee, retired county councillor and local farmer, has just published his memoirs and we are honoured to host Michael for a book signing from 7pm to 8pm. An ideal Christmas present for all your discerning local historian friends!

Opening Hours

Have you noticed that it is easier to drop into the shop over lunch times? Since August, we have not had a single lunchtime closure – thanks to stalwarts Jo, Kelly and Helen. Volunteers are increasing in numbers and some volunteers have settled into regular slots but we still welcome more.

Committee

Update

The end of October marked our 3rd year as a community shop and we hope it will be able to carry on trading. At the next AGM there will be 3 vacancies on the management committee. If you would like to help then please put your name forward. Helen Lee will be able to tell you what is involved.

Bronze free-range turkeys

"They came neatly boxed up and cooked beautifully. Everyone enjoyed the flavour and looked forward to the cold cuts later!" (satisfied Black Dog customer, 2017)

Our Christmas turkeys will be from Frenchbeer Farm, near Chagford again and can be ordered either by phone, email or in person.

Deadline for ordering is Thursday 14th December. Sizes and prices will be in store in the next week.

Christmas Boxes

As producers and distributors give us lots of December deadlines for last Christmas orders we like to get our supply and demand right! It really really helps us if you order your Christmas meat, vegetables and dairy products in good time and collect it on Saturday 23rd December. High quality local products such as Dunn's (eg Exbourne) clotted cream and butter, Chinns (Crediton) chipolatas and sausage meat, and Thornes (near Cherriton Fitzpaine) brussels sprouts and cabbages will be on the Christmas Box Form, available from the shop and by email from early December.
