BLACK BEES AT OFFSHOOTS

Groundwork Pennine Lancashire's Permaculture Project, Offshoots, based at Towneley has secured funding of £100,000 by the Heritage Lottery Fund and the John Paul Getty Foundation to train 120 new apiarists to help protect a threatened species of bee. The Black Honey Bee is an indigenous honey bee species which was rendered virtually extinct a century ago by the Acarine mite, the outbreak being called the 'Isle of Wight disease'.

Following this outbreak, beekeepers replaced their empty hives with Italian or Carniolan honey bees which are less aggressive and more adaptive, but are ill-suited to the British weather.

Groundwork Pennine Lancashire intends to help remedy this locally, and establish new Black Honey Bee colonies in Burnley, a town they identified as being geographically ideal for the task. Burnley is situated in a valley with high moorland edges which the drones and queens will not go beyond, so the populations can be effectively contained.

FOTP Gardening Club are working with Offshoots to help plant species of shrubs which will help these colonies develop. If you would like to be part of this project and would like to know more about the free beekeeping courses, please contact Lisa Griffin on 01282 450270 or lisa.griffin@groundwork.org.uk or visit the Offshoots site at www.offshoots.org.uk.

Opening of Woodgrove

Fitness equipment being used by Avenir trainees

FITNESS FOR ALL

Money obtained by The Friends of Towneley Park from the Big Lottery's "Awards for All" Fund has enabled a new Outdoor Fitness Area to be created in the new 'Woodgrove'.

The broad range of fitness equipment items are suitable for use by teenagers, families, fitness enthusiasts, and up to and over 60's, of all abilities and fitness. The equipment is specifically designed to tone, stretch and strengthen, to help the muscles and joints become flexible and to give a general feeling of well-being.

The equipment has also been designed for outdoor use as it is recognised that even small amounts of exercise taken in the fresh air are beneficial to peoples' health. Hopefully, it will encourage more of us to want a fitter and healthier lifestyle.

With being in the park, the equipment is easily accessible and is available during daylight hours, making it convenient for those who have limited time available.

The equipment is easy to use, but for those who have not used fitness equipment previously, there are instruction labels on each item.

We would like to say thank you to the Big Lottery for their support and funding, in allowing this new and innovative activity to become a reality, and to the staff of Green Spaces and Amenities for their assistance with the installation of the equipment.

BULBS IN BLOOM

For the fourth consecutive year, the Friends of Towneley Park (FOTP) have worked with local schools to plant bulbs in the park. In the springtime you should see the difference these have made.

Last year we managed to secure £500 funding from the Skipton Building Society to purchase 6000 bulbs. At the Heritage and Woodland Festival in September, we helped children to plant crocus and take them home as a treat. The FOTP Gardening Club then planted 2000 snowdrops and children from Brunshaw, Springfield, and St. Stephens School together with Unity and Sir John Thursby Colleges planted 4000 daffodil, crocus and bluebell bulbs in October.

The children had a great time, and Roger Leach (FOTP Vice Chair) made a video of the youngsters in action. They watched the worms wriggle, discovered the strength of roots, saw a frog camouflaged in the autumn grass and interviewed each other all while digging, planting, and returning the ground to its previous condition. We worked in pouring rain and sunshine, walked to and from the planting sites, wore gloves and used trowels, forks and spades. Everyone had a good time while working hard in the fresh air.

We hope you will visit the Smallholdings Trail to see the bulbs in bloom around each of the posts from March onwards. Lime Avenue should begin to have a white carpet of snowdrops in January/February in future years, Riverside car park should bloom with crocus in February, and daffodils from March onwards.

Thank you to FOTP, all the children and their teachers who took part, and the Park staff who also helped prepare the ground. We trust the children will remember the experience and be proud of Towneley Park as they grow into mature young people.
