Translations:

Umuntu ngumuntu ngabantu: Often shortened to 'Ubuntu' this Zulu phrase means "I am because we are." Desmond Tutu describes this African philosophy as "the essence of being human. It speaks of the fact that my humanity is caught up and is inextricably bound up in yours. I am human because I belong. It speaks about wholeness, it speaks about compassion. A person with Ubuntu... knows that they are diminished when others are humiliated, diminished when others are treated as if they were less than who they are."

Cuando el sol se levanta, se levanta para todos: This Cuban Proverb translates as "when the sun rises, the sun rises for everyone."

AlwaHda hil Qoowa: Common in many languages, this is the Arabic language proverb meaning "Unity is Power".

Arabic Pronunciation:

Q: Pronounced like "k," but deeper in the throat.

H: a stronger, more breathy 'h' sound - like the air coming out of a bike tyre, or blowing on your glasses to clean them.
