What is the Millennium Green?

Established in 2000, the Millennium Green by the River Wyre in Garstang is a pleasant open space for use by all, owned by a charity and managed by volunteers. The land is secure and will never be developed.

Why visit the Green?

Stunning views across the Bowland Fells and riverside walks.

Space for gentle relaxation, walking, recreational and educational activities all associated with the countryside, but right here in Garstang.

Picnic area free from dogs with barbecue-friendly tables

Wildlife on the Green

Wildflower meadows, copses and hedges have all been planted by the management team and volunteers. Bird and bat boxes encourage more wildlife to the Green. Conservation work is ongoing and relies on public donations.

The Green is run by volunteers from the Management Team, aided by Wyre Borough Rangers and Friends on regular monthly workdays (usually the 3rd Tuesday of the month) when they carry out routine maintenance and improvements.

Friends of the Green

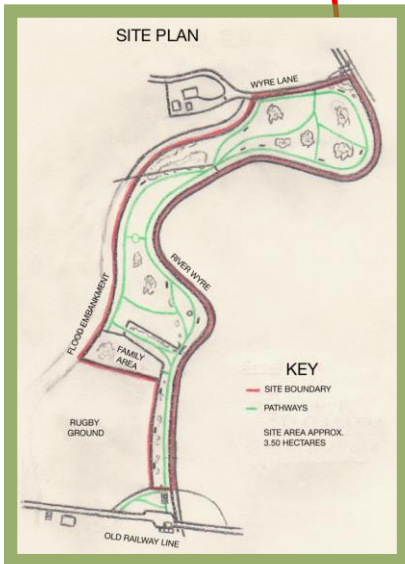

The Friends organise a range of social events and fundraisers including coffee mornings, visiting speakers, plant sales, charity stalls and visits to other similar sites.

- The Friends publish a regular newsletter.
- They encourage the sensitive use of the Green and its use by outside bodies, schools, youth groups, etc.
- Friends can be anyone who gets pleasure from the Green and wishes to put something back into it.
