About the Cornwall Independent Poverty Forum (CIPF)
The Cornwall Independent Poverty Forum was established in 1996 to tackle social exclusion. Our main aim is to enable individuals to regain control of their lives and take their rightful place in society by utilising their talents for the benefit of their communities. We are people centered and by listening, we learn about the problems that poverty, ill-health and bureaucracy bring and which condemn too many people to desperation, loneliness and exclusion. The Forum is committed to highlighting failures within the system and to bringing about reform. The Forum befriends by offering a helping hand and a listening ear and our main tools are companionship, constructive help and long-term support through the maze of officialdom.

Message from Andrew Yates, Chair, CIPF
We are really excited about this project and hope that our fellow Cornish residents will join us in this new venture. Happy Christmas and New Year to you all. www.cornwallindependentpovertyforum.btck.co.uk

(1) Active 8

Active8 enables young people with physical disabilities to enjoy outdoor, social and arts activities, and in the process make friends, gain confidence, become more independent. It encourages personal development and communication, so they can influence the world they live in, and it’s also their own youth group. Active8’s manager runs residential, fun activity weekends for 15-17 year olds. These last two years for each cohort of young people, helping them discover they can make their own choices and lead a full life.

An Active8 youth worker follows this and finds more young people, establishing mutual support for 16-25's with a physical disability. This continues to develop their confidence and skills. Communication is vital as they live all over Cornwall; travel is costly and difficult. They have an all-year programme of events, which they choose and contribute to: also individual sessions for people who need support to embark on independence.

- £5.00 to make flapjacks for us all
- £12.00 to go on the scary zip wire across the lake - £7 for a second go!

(4) Backpack beds

A new backpack portable shelter is now helping to improve the quality of life for people who are facing a daunting night, sleeping on the streets of Cornwall. The Cornwall Independent Poverty Forum has sourced these purpose designed backpack shelters, which are manufactured in Australia, which has been trialled in Cornwall by the Cornwall Homeless Support Project in conjunction with key projects that provide support for the homeless and rough sleepers in the county. The backpack shelters are fully waterproof, light and provide essential emergency relief to those living on the streets. They are cost effective and will last longer than traditional sleeping bags and blankets that will become wet, get damp and eventually be discarded. Backpack shelters are not the permanent solution to preventing or relieving homeless and rough sleeping in Cornwall. They offer a simple short-term solution to help vulnerable people take the next step out of poverty.

- £65.00 for an individual backpack bed

(5) Cornwall Samaritans at Truro

Truro branch of Samaritans was set up in 1970 to help support people in emotional distress including those who may be suicidal. People can contact us at any time, 365 days of the year 24 hours a day by phone, email, or text without an appointment. We are open for visitors from 9.00 – 21.00 each day and work in the community within the A & E Department of Treliske and at 2 drop in Centres. We also offer 2 hours free listening training to anyone who is in contact with vulnerable people.

People contact us for many reasons – bereavement, loss, financial worries, relationship break down – whatever is causing distress. We offer total confidentiality, and are non-judgemental. We don’t give advice but people are often able to find their own solutions simply by talking things through with an impartial stranger who will simply listen. Truro is the only Samaritan Branch in Cornwall; in 2012 we received over 52,000 contacts. We receive no Government funding; the centre is run entirely by volunteers who, along with friends groups, also have to raise the £40,000 per year to run the service.

- £5.00 keeps us open for 1 hour
- £10.00 provides listening training for people who are in contact with others who are vulnerable
- £25.00 allows us to provide our service for ½ of one night
