Welcome to the January 2024 Flyer

We continue to be grateful to Mantracourt Electronics Ltd of The Drive, Farringdon who are printing the magazine each month.

Contributions to the Flyer would be appreciated by the 18th of the Month please.

It only seems like yesterday that I was putting together the first Flyer of 2023. Unfortunately 2023 had a lot of sad news for the village and indeed the world. Hopefully 2024 may be better in all sorts of ways.

The coffee morning at the beginning of December raised £17 for Pancreatic Cancer UK. Januarys will be on Saturday 6th January at 10-30 in the Village Hall. Contributions will be in aid of the Church Roof fund. This is required as the roof needs to be re tiled including new battens and felt which is likely to cost well over £100,000.

We start monthly gardening tips supplied by the person that provided the monthly recipes. Anything else of interest for the magazine would be appreciated.

CALLING ALL FARRINGDON PAST AND PRESENT RESIDENTS

Do join us for a Coffee Morning in the Village Hall on Saturday December 2nd between 10-30am and 12 noon

Any contributions will go to
The Church Roof Fund

JANUARY GARDENING TIPS:

- Recycle your Christmas tree, the council has drop off points at Knowle Hill (Exmouth), Sidmouth recycling centres or Sutton Barton (Honiton).
- Deadhead pansies/violas/cyclamen in your pots regularly to keep them blooming.
- Prune apple & pear trees:- remove dead, diseased or damaged branches then shorten last year's growth on the main branches by about a third. Also remove shoots in the centre to allow in light & air.
- Plant forced Christmas hyacinths outside - just deadhead them & plant in the garden for next year.
- Plant bare root trees, shrubs & fruit. If the soil is very wet or frozen, keep them in a bucket of moist compost, sheltered from the frost and plant out as soon as conditions allow.
- Force rhubarb crowns by covering with an upturned bucket for an early spring crop.

From Rev Bill Lemmey

Valedictory Remarks – on dealing with loss

It seems very strange to me to use the word “valedictory” as I prepare to leave White Cross.

Many, or most, of you, will know the huge sense of loss I have experienced lately, with the deaths of my stepson Dane last year, then my mother this August and finally (for the time being) my dearly beloved Daff in September. I am feeling a little maudlin as I write this, understandably.

My own health has also been impacted, my prostate cancer is now being kept at bay (my PSA rate is less than .01, which is great – fellow men, get yourself checked out), but I still get very fatigued. Sometimes it is difficult to tell whether it is emotional or physical – probably both.

I am re-reading some of the stories about Abraham (in Genesis) at the moment, and empathizing with him about how it must have felt to have to go to a different land, one he wasn't necessarily familiar with. Like him, I am about to go on a new, different journey.

So where does that leave me? As I have been off sick, permanently, since just after Easter, I have been unable to officially communicate with my churchwardens and congregations. I really wanted to go to one meeting, to try to explain things, but was told firmly not to. I can see why. If you can't work, you can't work. However, I have managed to stay in touch in a very low-key way and am, of course, indebted to the many retired clergy, layworkers and churchwardens who have supported both the Mission and me. However, many don't know what they can do to help, if at all, which is quite understandable.

The schools have been wonderful too, a couple of ready meals arrived on my doorstep just after Daff died; one from an Asian family ( I assume) who had only heard of me. It has been a privilege to give a little back to Woodbury School Art Dept.

Of course, I want to thank everyone who helped make Daff's funeral go as smoothly as possible – I won't name you as you know who you are. We will have raised about £1500 to be split between her three charities – thank you all.

But also thank all of you who have made our brief sojourn with you here in White Cross, and specifically in Woodbury village such a good time, when not dealing with death, dying and grief. I am sad that I haven't done more, and got to know many of you a little better – but sometimes these things are just not meant to me. Only God knows why.

So, I am journeying on to pastures new, I know not where exactly – though do pray for me and Seaton, where I might settle. I have something new to do with my life, I know not what. I need some time to reflect and wait and decide what to do in early retirement (through ill health). If Abraham moved in his considerable old age, so can I, much younger, though perhaps less healthy.

I will hold you all in my heart and pray for the right new person/ people to lead WCMC into the future. We are all on a journey; may it be God's will for you and for me.

God bless,
Bill L

Help the homeless at St Petrock's

Homelessness charity St Petrock's (StP) is appealing for items of food, toiletries, cleaning items, clothes, rucksacks and sleeping bags to help people through the autumn and winter months.

The charity has compiled a 'Harvest Festival Wish List' to give people an idea of the sort of things they are after.

Rowan Livingstone, Homelessness Services Manager, said: "If you haven't had a proper tour of the StP Centre you may not know that underneath is a Crypt. This is a hidden bonus to being based in an 11th Century Church as we use it to store all the tinned/dry/long life goods that we try to make last through the year."

"But - this year our shelves are more depleted than I've even seen, and I would be so grateful if you could check out our Harvest Wishlist, share it far and wide, maybe see if your workplace could set up a collection?"

"We go through an incredible amount of food and drinks every week – The team make at least 25 hot drinks each morning on our Breakfast outreach and we provide hot or cold drinks for those coming into the Centre. Our Kitchen volunteers make approx. 25-30 breakfasts and 30 lunches every weekday. Anything left over at the end of the day we take to supported housing partners."

"It is humbling every day to remind myself that St Petrock's survives on the generosity of donations from local supporters, businesses and faith groups – we try to make sure this kindness is felt by all those who come to us for help, and a hot freshly cooked meal is often something that brings a smile to someone having a tough time. A new client this week who came in for a shower, laundry and fresh clothes, then stayed for lunch, told our Kitchen team that he 'can tell this delicious cake was made with love'. It was warm from the oven raspberry sponge with custard, and there was none left at the end of the session!

Due to the very damp Summer in July/ August, St Petrock's are also short of waterproofs and sleeping bags. Men's items such as jeans, joggers, boxers and trainers are a constant need for the charity if anyone can spare any. These can be taken to their shop, Petrock's Place, in Paris Street.
