"A Wondrous Mystery"

A Quiet Day for Advent

Led by Christine Grist and Jo Parsons
Farringdon Village Hall

Thursday 7th December 9.45 for 10am start until 2pm

To include coffee/tea/biscuits at 9.45, and a bread and soup lunch
All are warmly welcome

*"What is this wondrous mystery unfolding within me?
...received not in essence, but
by participation."*

St Symeon the New Theologian (949-1022 AD).

During this Quiet Day, we seek to deepen our experience of this sacred time of Advent, in preparation for Christmas. Through prayer, contemplation, fellowship and the creation of a simple Advent wreath we open again to the unfolding mystery of the incarnation of the Christ within our hearts.

Christine Grist is a Licensed Lay Minister in the White Cross Mission churches.

Jo Parsons is a Meditation Leader and Retreat Guide.

Monthly Recipe - Christmas rum truffles

The rum element can be omitted to make plain chocolate truffles for children.

200g good dark chocolate (70% cocoa solids) chopped into small pieces
150g double cream
100g chocolate cake, broken into crumbs
1 tbsp dark rum
3 tbsp chocolate sprinkles (or cocoa for dusting, whichever you prefer)

Method:

Heat chocolate & cream in a heatproof bowl set over a pan of simmering water, making sure the bowl doesn't touch the water.
Stir until chocolate has melted & mixture is smooth.
Remove from heat & mix in cake crumbs & rum.
Leave to cool at room temperature until the mixture is firm enough to roll into balls, about 1 hour.
If the mixture splits, stir until smooth.
Put sprinkles and/or cocoa in separate shallow dishes.
Roll teaspoons of the mixture into balls then roll in the sprinkles or cocoa to coat. A mixture of some cocoa coated & some sprinkles coated look good!
These will keep in an airtight container for up to a week. Makes 16-20

Happy Christmas!

Enjoy!

FARRINGTON CHURCH

This is to explain why green ropes have been erected approximately a metre from the church walls.

We have recently had the mandatory 5 yearly architect inspection which has found that the roof will need to be retiled incorporating new battens and rustless nails.

This will require some serious fundraising and grant application as the we are responsible for funding this work.

In the meantime we have to protect against slipping tiles which hopefully can be achieved by some sort of edge protection , after which the rope may be able to be removed.

Farringdon Parish Church Council (PCC)

Daphne (Daff) Lemmey

4 July 1945 - 27 September 2023

Although, as her next-door-neighbour, I only knew Daff since her arrival in Woodbury, I feel honoured to have been a good friend of hers and will miss her a lot. I am grateful to her husband Revd Bill, to her sons Saxon and Justin (sadly Dane died just over a year ago) and to Revd Ann Gibbs for providing these highlights from Daff's life.

Sue Bury

Born in Birmingham, Daff went to Australia as a Ten Pound Pom, where she met lots of new friends and had her three sons. Sadly her marriage to Roger did not last, and after living together in Birmingham and then Bournemouth, Roger and Saxon returned to Australia.

Whilst in Bournemouth with her other two young sons, Daff gained a degree in geography and became a committed Christian and her strong faith remained with her for the rest of her life.

Daff became a residential project worker, working with troublesome, homeless adolescents with the Children's Society and there met Bill, then an assistant youth worker. One thing led to another, and they married some six months later on 12 December 1987.

They moved to Yeovil when Daff got a new job with Stonham Housing, and they both worked as unpaid youth workers for a local free evangelical church, and then ended up housing various younger and older people in their home. Daff also ran a drop-in centre, not without its difficulties, in Yeovil.

While Bill trained for the ministry in Cambridge, Daff lived in Lyme Regis. When Bill became licensed, they moved first to New Milton, then to Porlock, where Daff was involved in many church activities, particularly a drop-in coffee morning at Porlock.

Daff was a keen walker, and with a group of friends walked half of the coast-to-coast walk, and part of the West Highland Way in Scotland. She is remembered as a strong, unsentimental and feisty person, who knew her own mind. She loved the beauty of nature, particularly the sea, and when younger, spent many happy occasions at the beach, body-surfing the waves. She encouraged her sons to get involved in activities such as walking, sports, music, dancing and singing amongst many others.

Daff believed in the concept of “get involved, or you miss out”.

Daff’s friends describe her as being kind, compassionate and thoughtful, a person who would come to their aid when they were struggling - there was no fuss, but she would be there when needed. She didn’t care what other people might think or say - she spoke and acted true to herself at all times. She was inspirational because those who knew her well knew that she had faced challenges herself and therefore when she gave anyone ‘tough love’ her honesty really upheld and encouraged the recipient. One thing about Daff was that once she decided on something, she did not change her mind.

Revd Ann recalls: ‘Daff sometimes reminded me of a tigress in her attitude towards Bill; she was fiercely protective of him and hugely supportive - although I also know that she could despair over his ability to lose things! Indeed when he left Porlock, the card that a local artist created for him showed Daff following after Bill collecting the various things he left as he went on his way.’

Daff had a fall just before Easter this year, recovered well over a 6-week period, but then, very suddenly, was diagnosed with a fast-growing brain tumour (she had previously been diagnosed with a rare blood disorder, and then with a low grade leukaemia). She deteriorated very quickly over less than a month, and died peacefully at home on 27 September. The family are indebted to superb healthcare from the emergency response team, from Marie Curie and from Hospiscare.

Help the homeless at St Petrock's

Homelessness charity St Petrock's (StP) is appealing for items of food, toiletries, cleaning items, clothes, rucksacks and sleeping bags to help people through the autumn and winter months.

The charity has compiled a 'Harvest Festival Wish List' to give people an idea of the sort of things they are after.

Rowan Livingstone, Homelessness Services Manager, said: "If you haven't had a proper tour of the StP Centre you may not know that underneath is a Crypt. This is a hidden bonus to being based in an 11th Century Church as we use it to store all the tinned/dry/long life goods that we try to make last through the year."

"But - this year our shelves are more depleted than I've even seen, and I would be so grateful if you could check out our Harvest Wishlist, share it far and wide, maybe see if your workplace could set up a collection?"

"We go through an incredible amount of food and drinks every week – The team make at least 25 hot drinks each morning on our Breakfast outreach and we provide hot or cold drinks for those coming into the Centre. Our Kitchen volunteers make approx. 25-30 breakfasts and 30 lunches every weekday. Anything left over at the end of the day we take to supported housing partners."

"It is humbling every day to remind myself that St Petrock's survives on the generosity of donations from local supporters, businesses and faith groups – we try to make sure this kindness is felt by all those who come to us for help, and a hot freshly cooked meal is often something that brings a smile to someone having a tough time. A new client this week who came in for a shower, laundry and fresh clothes, then stayed for lunch, told our Kitchen team that he 'can tell this delicious cake was made with love'. It was warm from the oven raspberry sponge with custard, and there was none left at the end of the session!

Due to the very damp Summer in July/ August, St Petrock's are also short of waterproofs and sleeping bags. Men's items such as jeans, joggers, boxers and trainers are a constant need for the charity if anyone can spare any. These can be taken to their shop, Petrock's Place, in Paris Street.
